

Mrs Bowler says:

I have a couple of photos from our school Christmas party lunch from 1961. My mother was a helper along with many other parents. I hope you like them!

My brother and I attended the school and we left for Australia in June 1962. I was given a book as a farewell present, it was "Robinson Crusoe" so I'm glad our ship didn't sink on the way.

In 2014 I revisited our old house in Ealing and met the lovely lady who now lives there. She said her family had moved to the area simply to send her children to your school because it has a great reputation.

Unfortunately I couldn't visit the school as it was the summer holidays, but I had a walk around anyway.

My mum is the tall dark haired lady about the centre in the back row of the second photo. I am at the very front left edge of the first photo with a paper party hat and plaits.
